Education: Bachelors at Washington State University in Lib Arts and Political Science with emphasis in Pre-Law.

Profession: Director of Veterans Services

Recognitions & Honors:

He was assigned to the Artillery “Red Leg” side of the house, and was proud of his military occupation- Forward Observer Scout, or known as the “Fisters”.

Cory attended basic and advanced training at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. While serving his country he was able to train in multiple areas i.e. Pakistan, Panama, Haiti, Dominican Republic, and Korea. During that time he served in leadership positions as a Non-Commissioned Officer.

Prior to his current position, Cory worked at the Department of Workforce Services as the Statewide Veterans Employment Representative. He worked on services specifically related to employer initiatives and Veteran employment and worked to develop a veteran strategic plan within the Department of Workforce Services. Cory was also vital in the marketing strategies and materials that promoted hiring and retention of veterans. Cory currently coordinates with other state agencies, departments, and private organizations that support military Veterans and assist with the delivery of service. He ensures that they are responsive, well planned, and effectively implemented. He helps direct the programs and activities that the Department of Veterans and Military Affairs is involved with and ensures consistency with the policies established by the Executive Director and the Governor.
